Print Event

IPI organized in January 2009 an event about packaging printing for a global food, health & personal care company. Participants were employees, suppliers and partners from 12 different countries. 15 presentations were highlighting the subject along the whole value chain from marketing, design, artwork, print color management, print technologies to regulations and sustainability. Two panel discussions and the social program were offering a lot of possibilities to further develop the topic and create benefits for the daily business.
